Control stations 8146, 8125 and 8126

Series 8146 enclosures of glass-fibre reinforced polyester resin and series 8125 and 8126 enclosures of high grade steel are used in larger control stations and control station combinations.

They can be equipped with control, indicator, display and measuring devices according to what is ordered. Since there are so many combinations of components, there is no standardized sizing. Each 8146, 8125 and 8126 series control station is designed and built to order.
